Interactive Workshop

Working together to face the mental health challenges at schools

同行面對校園精神健康的挑戰

Date: July 10, 2024 (Wednesday)
Time: 7:00pm – 9:00pm
Venue: Asian Academy of Family Therapy (AAFT), No. 4 Pottinger Street, Central
Presenter: Dr. Lam Wing Wo
Fee: Free-of-charge
Language: Cantonese (supplemented with English)

About the Talk

It takes a village to raise a child: In this interactive workshop, Dr Lam elaborates on the systems perspective in perceiving and coping with the mental health challenges at schools, including the detection, management, and prevention of various mental health conditions of children and adolescents. Participants are cordially invited to voice out their ideas and to share experiences in the workshop, with the hope of developing better clinical approaches and care models for our next generation.

About the Speaker

Dr Edmund Wing Wo Lam is a Family Doctor and Marriage and Family Therapist in private practice. He has been involved in promoting healthcare and family well-being across various stages of life using the family context through care provision, public education, and professional teaching. He is deeply committed to empowering clinicians to enhance patient care by integrating Family Medicine and Family Therapy, thus adopting a family-oriented clinical approach.
