

Spring 2024 Tokyo Workshops: 19th 3-Day Series by ACTA
(Asian-Pacific Center for Therapeutic Assessment)

Using psychological assessment to help clients recover from unhealthy shame

2024

May 3rd (Fri holiday), 4th (Sat), 5th (Sun),
10 AM - 5 PM

In this workshop, we will explore practical interventions for dealing with shame, as well as defenses against shame. Participants will also have the opportunity to take part in exercises that will help them with their own shame. Throughout the workshop, our aim is to learn how to handle clients' feelings of shame while also facilitating personal growth for the participants in a safe environment. This workshop is open to all clinicians, even those who do not usually conduct assessments. Participants who attended the ACTA shame workshop in 2017 will also find new learning opportunities.
